London International Financial Futures and Options Exchange (LIFFE) Robusta coffee futures: closed higher across the board on Friday. January position closed at US$ 1,836 per tonne gaining US$ 9, while March position closed at US$ 1,825 per tonne gaining US$ 11 over the previous closing.

Inter Continental Exchange (ICE) Arabica coffee futures: Closed higher across the board on Friday. March position closed at US cents 168.10 per lb gaining US cents 0.40 while May position closed at US cents 167.50 per lb gaining US cents 0.60 over the previous closing.

Coffee prices on Friday settled higher supported by Friday's sell-off in the dollar index to a 2-3/4 month low.

The projected increase in coffee from Brazil is however negative for coffee prices. Rabobank last week projected that Brazil's 2023/24 coffee crop would climb by 8% over the year to 68.25 million bags as recent rain is seen favoring the development of crops. There is also projected global coffee surplus in 2023/24 as consumption is expected to slow down as a result from economic recession and energy crisis.
